Q: Advanced usage of enumerations I am currently using enumerations in my project to rename all the various sub folders within a project based on the type of the item within the sub folder. This is not a trivial task, so I am looking at ways to make the process easier. My project is using Xcode 4.3.2 and has no use of Cocoapods or storyboards. I have mapped all the types to enums and have this method: enum SubFolder { case SubFolderA case SubFolderB case SubFolderC case SubFolderD case SubFolderE var fileName: String { switch self { case.SubFolderA: return "folder_A.txt" case.SubFolderB: return "folder_B.txt" case.SubFolderC: return "folder_C.txt" case.SubFolderD: return "folder_D.txt" case.SubFolderE: return "folder_E.txt"
